Goodman Games

By Tom Eliopoulos

This Wednesday, Founder's Day, will boast many fun and exciting activities. Among them are the Goodman Games which will begin at ten o'clock in morning through noon at the Brody Complex. The Goodman Games will feature a slew of over 22 games at five different stations.

SR-6S Section Chief Thomas Christian, chairman of the Goodman Games, spoke with The Daily Legend about the program and gave us a sneak peak at some of the opportunities available to Arrowmen this Wednesday after the Founders' Day parade.

One of the events at the Games will be an Over, Under, and Through obstacle course that will allow Arrowmen to test their agility against that of their brothers. Other events will include stilt competitions and a station that has been rightly termed 'He Webs We Weave'. There will also be a branding station where Arrowmen will be able to brand words and images onto their belts or any other viable material they can find. Other events include a game similar to horseshoes that involves rings and bottles and an area that Arrowmen can make and launch their own bottle rockets.

By far one of the more interesting and newest addition to the Goodman Games this year is the Realistic First Aid Station. Arrowmen will be able to learn firsthand about some new first aid skills in realistic trauma settings. Fake blood will even be used in some of the demonstrations to illustrate certain first aid skills.

During an interview, Thomas Christian told us that "the Goodman Games are the best and only games in town," and he guaranteed that any Arrowman not attending the games will be missing out on some serious fun.

NOAC Food Drive

NOAC Food Drive supports local communities

By Jeffrey St. Cyr

As the National Order of the Arrow Conference began on Saturday with registration, participants at Munn Field began filling a box truck of non-perishable items for the community of East Lansing, Michigan, and the surrounding areas, as part of the NOAC food drive. The Activities and Recreation Committee sponsored the event and has been marked as a success for NOAC 2006.

The drive began at 9:00 a.m. and by 1:00 p.m the collection truck was well on its way to being filled. So far, an entire box truck has been filled with non-perishable items that will be delivered to the Greater Lansing Food Bank, who will in turn, equally distribute it to many other participating organizations. The drive does not stop there, as the committee is in the process of filling up another vehicle of food donations. "The NOAC food drive is an example of the true meaning of cheerful service. It is a different way of helping others," said Justin Abshire, a member of the ARC staff, "The total number of food items collected is still unknown, but soon, a count of all donations will occur."

If you would like to donate to the NOAC food drive, you still can. Feel free to stop by the ARC office in Case Hall, Room 331, with donations or questions, or you can call Justin Abshire at 337-802-0398 to arrange for a pick-up of your donations. Every year, the Boy Scouts of America participate in food drives across the nation to assist our fellow citizens throughout the year as a part of service to the communities in which we reside. Many are thankful for our continued support of food drives across the nation. With this national event and the honor campers of the Boy Scouts of America, we all can truly make a difference in our home communities.

'Count' on Siezing the Day

Charlotte, North Carolina and the Mecklenburg County Council are home to 2006 Southern Region Chief Dustin Counts.

A Vigil Honor member of Catawba Lodge, Dustin has served as lodge vice chief, lodge chief and chief of Section SR-5.

Dustin is an Eagle Scout and registered with Troop 70 in Charlotte. One of the highlights of Dustin's year in office has been this national conference.

"The opportunities I've had to meet so many different young Arrowmen from across the country and really share in this conference have made it shine," he said.

During the rest of the year, Dustin always looks forward to each and every National Leadership Seminar.

"It's incredible to watch young Arrowmen truly develop their leadership potential at these conferences," he said.

One of his most memorable Scouting experiences came last summer as Dustin attended the OA Trail Crew at Philmont.

"On one night of our trek, we hiked to the top of Baldy like many other Philmont crews," Dustin recounted. "What made this night so memorable though, was that we were able to actually look down on the Fourth of July fireworks going off in a nearby town with 13 of my closest brothers in the OA from across the nation."

Outside of Scouting, you can usually find Dustin hanging out with friends on the lake near his home.

"We spend most of our time during the summer going wakeboarding and just having good times," he said. "I also enjoy going to movies and listening to stand up comedy."

Dustin just finished his freshman year at Central Piedmont Community College where he is studying business.

Something that may be surprising to many is that, according to Dustin, running for National Office is something that he never planned on doing.

"As a young Arrowman, I had aspirations of being a lodge chief one day like my mentor, Jeff Womack," he said. "I never thought that I would become a section, or much less national, officer."

Some advice that Dustin has for any Arrowman with aspirations to become successful in the OA, or even to be a national officer, is the same as we heard at Saturday's Opening Show.

"As I was presented with opportunities to serve at different levels, I seized the day and took advantage of those opportunities. They ultimately got me to where I am now."

Haddock Ensures Success

By James Poindexter

Brad Haddock began his scouting career 43 years ago at the age of eight. He has been an Arrowman for 38 years, serving in capacities ranging from chapter elections chairman to the 1975-76 National Chief.

He went on to serve in an adult capacity, joining the OA National Committee and serving in various roles until becoming our National Chairman.

We began our discussion with the value of the Scouting program and more specifically, the value of the Order of the Arrow. Brad shared a quote from the book "Characteristics of Servant Leadership": "The only ones among you who will be really happy are those who have sought and found how to serve."

It is clear from this discussion that Arrowmen have a lot to look forward to in the years ahead.

This year marks the third cycle of the Lodge Assistance Team program. This program is helping lodges with internal administration and council relations. Another new initiative encourages councils to present an annual report to the council executive board.

These are only small parts of a large plan the Order is putting together to forge better relationships between the lodge and the council.

The Order of the Arrow National Committee is presently working on phase three of their long term strategic plan, designed to mirror the plan that the National Boy Scout Committee has created.

This will ensure that these two committees are working together to accomplish a common purpose. Phase three of the strategic plan will focus on membership retention, along with endorsements and professional Scouting recruitment.

It appears that the Order has been fairly consistent in membership retention over the past few years, even with the recent dues increase.

In 2008, ArrowCorps⁵ is a program to get excited about! The program was Brad's vision, and brought to reality by members of the OA Steering Committee.

There will be five National Forest Service areas around the country that summer, with the goal of having 1000 Arrowmen complete week long service to these rich wildlife reserves.

The program will create new bonds between the Order of the Arrow and the US Government, potentially allowing for future endeavors together.

This is the first time the Order will reach out to complete a nationwide service project outside of the Scouting.

Recycle During NOAC

MSU cardboard recycling containers can be tip carts or front load containers. All boxes must be broken down, flattened and empty of food and other materials.

MSU newspaper recycling containers are grey tip or curb carts and are located on hall loading docks.

If you are inside the building you can use the small grey containers with blue tops called Slim Jim's. You may recycle newspaper and inserts in any newspaper recycling container.

Phone directories and magazines are not accepted in these containers.

Mixed office paper recycling containers are available in the residence halls in each trash room. They are 3 foot cardboard containers labeled for mixed office paper.

The Union has extra containers just for NOAC located in the training and meeting rooms.

Regions to Gather Tonight

Immediately following gatherings will be the Grand Hodag

By Zachary Shepherd

Tuesday, from 7:30-9 p.m., all four regions will be holding gatherings.

Some regions have chosen to keep the scheduled events at their gathering a secret.

The Western Region has promised something "Top Secret and Exciting" that deals with a surfboard.

This year the Central Region is having a Luau-themed gathering and all attendees are encouraged to wear a brightly colored or Hawaiian Shirt if possible.

The Central region will also be picnicking in the region

venting president.

Many regions will have competitions between lodges and sections at their gatherings.

Region chiefs will also use the gathering as a chance to talk about events coming up during the next year.

Arrowman ice cream popular during hot conference

What is the fabled Arrowman ice cream?

This question can be overheard across the vast MSU campus coming from participants, staff, and residents alike.

This reporter has found the scoop, two scoops to be precise, on exactly what the secret is behind Arrowman ice cream.

Despite many rumors, the ice cream is not made out of pureed Ordeal sashes.

According to MSU Dairy Store manager John Engstrom, he was pleased to find out that the OA sash is red and white because the recipe used for the ice cream is one that he had wanted to try for some time, and the matching colors showed it was "meant to be." The recipe consists of a white strawberry-based ice cream, not vanilla or cake batter as some might assume, and a strawberry ribbon which creates the red aspect of the tasty treat.

The ice cream is served at 5-7 degrees Fahrenheit and provides

The Grand Hodag

By James Poindexter

On Tuesday evening, the Activities and Recreation Committee (ARC) will be putting on the Grand Hodag for everyone at NOAC to enjoy. If you've never been to the Grand Hodag before, it is truly one of the greatest experiences you will have here at NOAC. ARC has been working hard to prepare the best program possible for your enjoyment. For the music lovers, there will be a bluegrass band called the "Hop-ups" playing throughout the event.

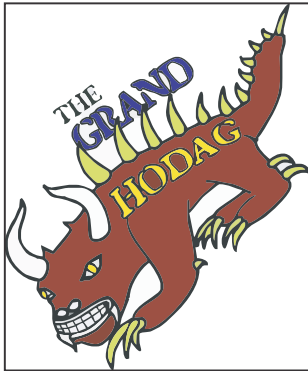

One of the greatest things about the Grand Hodag is the food. Over 1,500 pounds of peanuts have been purchased, along with more than 150 bags of cotton candy, 85 kegs of root beer, and 10 kegs of diet root beer. Carnival style booths will be set up around the field providing just about every game imaginable for your enjoyment. Several professional magicians have also been hired to entertain during the Hodag.

Be sure to stop by and see the chainsaw carver too; that should be an amazing sight.

ARC will be giving away freebies throughout the Hodag so be sure to stick around and get your free prizes! The Hodag will be held right after the region gathering on Tuesday night at Munn Field.

Be sure to wear your Grand Hodag t-shirt if you have already received one.

Take Off with the Navy

By James Poindexter

The Navy is at NOAC! Be sure to stop by and see them behind the Case building. They are constantly giving out free prizes to anyone and everyone who visits. They have brought with them a Blue Angels flight simulator that allows you to feel like you are sitting in the cockpit flying a Blue Angel.

The Navy's fully functional NASCART is also there for you to see. The driver, Mark McFarland, will be at the Navy exhibit on Wednesday from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. to sign autographs. The Navy Seals have provided their Desert Rat (their desert vehicle that looks and works a lot like a dune buggy), for participants to see up close.

The Navy has also provided two Xboxes so you can race NASCAR for yourself. The exhibit is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. everyday, so be sure to drop by and see all there is to see at the Navy's exhibit.

Arrow Corps⁵

By Tom Eliopoulos

The Order of the Arrow has had a long-standing interest in preserving our nation's natural habitats. That interest has transpired into such programs as the OA Wilderness Voyage, OA Trail Crew, and OA Ocean Adventure. At NOAC this week, the National Order of the Arrow Committee is unveiling another program of emphasis, set to launch in the summer of 2008, that will breathe fresh air into preserving our national forests.

In cooperation with the US Forestry Service, the Order of the Arrow's ArrowCorps⁵ program hopes to send five thousand Arrowmen to five different national forests over the course of five weeks. This plan will give much needed service to the Mark Twain National Forest in Missouri, the Manti-La Sal National Forest in Utah, the George Washington & Jefferson National Forests in Virginia, the Shasta-Trinity National Forest in California, and the Bridger-Teton National Forest in Wyoming.

The first week begins on June 7, 2008 and the fifth week starts on July 26, 2008. Each week will consist of forestry maintenance as well as recreational activities like whitewater rafting, kayaking, fishing, mountain climbing, house boating, and waterskiing. Ask your lodge chief or section chief about ArrowCorps⁵ for more information or to sign up.

Order of the Arrow High Adventure

By Rick Miller

Anyone who has gone on any of the Order of the Arrow's High Adventure programs will surely tell you that you have not lived until you have experienced an adventure at one of the BSA's three high adventure bases. Whether you are interested in doing the OA Trail Crew at Philmont, OA Wilderness Voyage at Northern Tier, or even OA Ocean Adventure in Florida, your experience is guaranteed to be one of the best times of your life! If you like to go backpacking, canoeing, or even scuba diving, then you need to prove yourself, along with your fellow brothers in the Order, by attending one of these high adventure bases at some point in your Scouting career.

Jim Donecker testifies that the OA Trail Crew experience turned out to be one of the most pivotal experiences of his life. Hiking through the scenery of Philmont, the crew had a truly spiritual journey on their hike up to visit the ruins of an ancient Indian civilization. Jim explained to The Daily Legend staff how "Our voices echoed through the canyon as the storm subsided. We jumped into the deepest puddles we could find. The ancient Indian writings had never witnessed a more saturated crew. It was a hike none of us forgot."

For more information about the OA High Adventure opportunities, stop by the OAHA booth at The Experience in the Brody Complex Multipurpose room or visit the Official National OA High Adventure website at <http://adventure.oa-bsa.org>.

OAHA Reunion

Do you know what it's like to finish Super Black Death? Have you ever been to the Height of Land? Have you ever watched a Great Barracuda soar above you? Well, then there is a good chance that you are invited to the 2006 OA High Adventure Reunion which will take place on Tuesday, August 1, 2006 from 2:30 – 4:00 p.m. in the Case Cafeteria.

The OAHA Reunion is open to ALL Arrowmen who have attended OATC, OAWV, or OAOA. Come and see your crew brothers. Meet the current foremen. Hear what work was accomplished this summer. This is sure to be the biggest and most exciting OAHA Reunion in NOAC history. Take this chance to be a part of the excitement.

Refreshments will be provided but feel free to bring pictures, maps, journals, and all other high adventure keepsakes. Show your pride for the OAHA programs by sporting your program patch throughout NOAC, but come to the reunion to share in the brotherhood.

Mark McFarland Visits

NASCAR driver Mark McFarland visits Founder's Day

By: Brian Casper

A household name in millions of homes across the United States, Mark McFarland is a well respected champion in the racing community. Mark started racing go-karts in his hometown of Winchester, Virginia. When he concluded that chapter in his racing career he proved that he could hold his own by having 186 feature wins, 12 state titles and seven national championships.

This 28-year-old currently resides in Mooresville, North Carolina, but is rarely home due to his racing schedule. During his career thus far he has made nine NASCAR Busch Series starts, 10 NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series starts, acquired 90 featured wins, three track championships, one regional championship and the 2003 NASCAR Dodge Weekly Racing Series national championship, one of the most respected titles in racing.

“Coming from a late model stock background makes me a throw-back of sorts,” said McFarland. “Dale [Earnhardt] Jr. came from the same background and it’s cool that we are getting back to the roots of stock car racing in a day in time where many teams are looking toward open wheel for the next hot shoe.”

McFarland will be one featured guests during Founder's Day. Be sure to stop by and talk with Mark during the day; he's a nice guy and you'll enjoy talking with him. Mark and his team are sponsored by the U.S Navy and he said, “We have a great sponsorship from the U.S. Navy and it is surreal to think that we'll be representing more than 400,000 NAVY personnel worldwide, especially during this time in our country's history.”

Where is it?!?

Your mission, if you choose to accept it, is to keep your Scouting eyes open and look for the evasive "Where is it?" image. When you have located this Jumpy Jpeg, run as fast as humanly possible to Brody Computer Lab (room 140). There, you will need to write down your "There it is" answer. If you are one of the first to successfully complete your mission, you will see your name printed in The Daily Legend tomorrow. The first five Arrowmen who answer correctly will also receive a prize. Good luck and find that item! Yesterday's photo from the botanical gardens was correctly identified by:

- Andrew Collins, Ajapeu Lodge
- Colin Krushinski, Cuyahoga Lodge
- Matthew Miles & Patrick Miles, Nentico Lodge
- Ben Peters, Edward Sinnes & Andrew Sinnes, Amangamek Wipit Lodge
- Michael Testerman, Wáh-Sha-She Lodge
